PARKER WRITES.

Formal Letter of Acceptance Made

IT AUGURS VICTORY.

in Plain and Forcible Language fie Dis

Judge Alton B Parker's letter accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency was made public on Monday. Judiciously and clearly he lays before the American people the issues upon which the campaign will be fought. No jingoistic sentiment: or rhetorical appeals are used in his declarations as to his position. He stands for tariff reform and favors rec iprocity; urges a definite pledge of freedom to the Filipinos as a stimulus to self government, and favors liberal pensioning of soldiers and sailors. Following is the letter in full: omnuttee, Etc. Gentlemen-In my response to you committee at the formal notification proceedings I referred to some matters not mentioned in this letter. I desire that these be considered as incorporat ed herein, and regret that lack of space privents specific reference to then all. I wish here, however, again to refer to my views there expressed as to the gold standard, to declare again my unqualified belief in said standard and to express my appreciation of the action of the convention in reply to my communication upon that subject.

To the Hon. Champ Clark and Others

Grave public questions are pressing for decision. The Democratic party appeals to the people with confidence that its position on these questions will be accepted and indersed at the polls. While the issues involved are numer ous, some stand forth pre-eminent in the public mind. Among these are tariff reform, imperialism, economical administration and honesty in the public service. I shall briefly consider these and some others within the necessarily prescribed limits of this letter Imperialism.

While I presented my views at th notification proceedings concerning this vital issue, the overshadowing importance of this question impels me to refer to it again. The issue is oftendimes referred to as constitutionalism versus imperialism.

If we would retain our liberties and constitutional rights unimpaired we cannot permit or tolerate at any time or for any purpose the arrogation of unconstitutional powers by the executive branch of our government. We should be ever mindful of the words of Webster, "Liberty is only to be preserved by maintaining constitutional restraints and a just division of polit

Already the national government has become centralized beyond any point contemplated or imagined by the founders of the constitution. How tremendously all this has added to the power of the president! It has devel-oped from year to year until it almost male that of many monarchs. While the growth of our country and the magnitude of interstate interests may seem to furnish a plausible reason for this centralization of power, yet these same facts afford the most potent reason why the executive should not be per mitted to encroach upon the other departments of the government and as sume legislative or other powers not expressly conferred by the constitu-

The magnitude of the country and its diversity of interests and population would enable a determined, ambitious and able executive, unmindful of constitutional limitations and fired with the lust of power, to go far the usurpation of authority and the aggrandizement of personal power be fore the situation could be fully appreciated or the people be aroused. The issue of imperialism which has been thrust upon the country involves a decision whether the law of the land or the rule of individual caprice shall govern. The principle of imperialism may give rise to brilliant, startling, dashing results, but the principle of democracy holds in check the brilliant executive and subjects him to the sober, conservative control of the people. The people of the United States stand at the parting of the ways

Shall we follow the footsteps of our fathers along the paths of peace, prosperity and contentment, guided by the living spirit of the constitution which they framed for us, or shall w go along other and untried paths hith erto shunned by all, following blindl new ideals which, though appealing with brilliancy to the huagination and ambition, may prove a will-o'-the-wisp leading us into difficulties from which it may be impossible to extricate ourselves without lasting injury to our national character and institutions? The Tariff and Trusts.

Tariff reform is one of the cardinal principles of the Democratic faith, and the necessity for it was never greater than at the present time. It should be undertaken at once in the interest of

The Dingley tariff is excessive in many of its rates and, as to them at least, unjustiv and oppressively burdens the people. It secures to domes tie manufacturers, singly or in combi nation, the privilege of exacting ex cessive prices at home and prices far above the level of sales made regularly by them abroad with profit, thus giving a bounty to foreigners at the expense of our own people. It levies oppressive and unjust taxes upon many articles forming in whole or par the so called raw material of many of our manufactured products, not only burdening the consumer, but also closing to the manufacturer the markets he needs and seeks abroad. Its unjust taxation burdens the people generally, forcing them to pay excess other necessaries of life. It levies du ties on many articles not normally imported in any considerable amoun which are made extensively at home for which the most extreme protection tionist would hardly justify protective taxes, and which in large amounts are exported. Such duties have been and will continue to be a direct incentive to the formation of huge industria combinations, which, secure from for eign competition, are enabled to stiffe domestic competition and practically to monopolize the home market.

It contains many duties imposed for the express purpose only, as was openly avowed, of furnishing a basis for reduction by means of reciprocal trade treaties, which the Republican administration, impliedly at least, promised to negotiate. Having on this promise sermed the increased duties the Republican party leaders, spurred on by protected interests, defeated the treaties negotiated by the executive, (Continued on Third Page.)

Prohibitionists Endorse Thropp The selection of Hon. Joseph E. Thropp by the conference of Prohib'tion delegates in Altoona last Saturday is a high tribute to the Damocrat- | Punishment Meted Out To Violators ic nominee for congress. The meeting was harmonious throughout and the first ballot resulted in the selection of Mr. Thropp.

The organization was effected by the election of Rev Aurandt, of Martinsourg, to preside and H. D. Border of Portage, Cambria county, as secretary. The three counties were represented. The Cambria delegates, following instructions, voted for Rev. Prosser, of Johnstown, but when the ballot resulted in the selection of Mr. Thropp, on motion of one of the Cambria delegates, it was made upanimous.

When Mr. Thropp was notified o his nomination he went to the hall and delivered a brief address which was enthusiastically received. An effort was made-and it was hatched in the Bedford incubator-to prevent the taking up of Mr. Thropp but it signally failed. This trick is in keeping with the Reynolds machine, and its defeat is a deserved rebuke. The action of the conference is justified by both the public and private life of the nominee.

An Estimate of Reynolds. Sized up at his worth by the Demoeratic party, disappointed at his rej c tion on his merits by the party of Jefferson, the estracised of his own partand despised by honorable Republicans -the man who has time and again vituperized in language upprintable the memories of such representative citizens and officers as ex-Governor Curtin, cu: war governor, and General and Governor Hastings-has the nerve to come before the voters of this con cressional district and ask their sup port on the so-called Republican ticket Democrats and Independent Republic ans, Prohibitionists and Socialis's should unite to defeat the ambition o this man. Wouldn't File Papers.

The state department refused to file the certificates of nomination of the candidates selected by the Prchibition conference at Altoona, Hon. Joseph E. Thropp for congress and H. D. Border for state senator. The names will however, be placed on the ticket by means of nomination papers. The re fusal was made on the ground that the Prohibition party failed to poll two per cent, of the votes at the last general election in the district.

The St. Louis world's fair, or, as it s officially designated, the Louisians Purchase exposition, marks an epoch in the history of the world's great ex- trainmen and injured n'ne others. positions. One of the greatest events n history, namely, the L'uisiana Purchase, which brought under the banner of freedom one of the richest quarters of the globe and made American expansion a possibility, is being commemorated by the greatest exposition ever held by any nation, an exposition which in magnitude and interest stands head and shoulders above any other exposition ever held. The vast sum of $50,000,000 has been gathered together to hold this great fair. The citizens of St. Louis raised $5,000, 000 as their contribution, the municipality contributed $5,000,000, the federal government contributed nearly $7,000,000, the state of Missouri, $1, 000,000. Fifty-one states are participating and their total appropriations amount to over $6,000,000. The exposition is international in its character; fifty of the world's countries are tak-

The world's fair covers two square miles of ground and occupies a magnificent site at Forest park. The archi tectural scheme of the fair is that of a lady's opened fan, the apex being the magnificent Festival Hall, which surmounts an eminence on the grounds. This immense building with its stupen done dome is finked by the crescent shaped terrace of states, terminating in beautiful pavilions. From Festival Hall and the terminal pavilions fall three immense cascades flowing into broad lagoous which radiate throughout the fair grounds. Twelve immense palaces contain the general exhibits while the exhibits of the various states and foreign countries are contained in additional beautiful buildings. The amusement features of the exposition are represented by the Estate of Lena Diltz, late of West Pike, comprising many historical, Providence, deceased, E. M. city of the United States. It had a population in 1980 of 575,238; in 1904 00,000, and is rapidly climbing toward the million mark. It is situated on the right bank of the Mississippi twenty miles below the junction of the Missouri and Mississippi. In area it sovers 62% square miles and has a frontage on the river of 19 miles. St Louis is the great entry port for the trade of the great southwest, one of killed in Pennsylvania, when thoy the most prosperous and promising may be killed and the number each It was established in 1764 as a trading post by Pierre Liguest Laclede and Auguste Chonteau. It became in time the centre of France's fur trade in the west. In 1771 it was occupied by a small body of Spanish troops, but in pheasants, unlimited; October 15 to 1800 the French again obtained the ranafer of their possession of Louisiana, but not to retain it long, for in 1803 this great territory was purchased from Napoleon by President Thomas Jefferson. The territory embraced in the Lousiana Purchase includes the present states of Missouri, Arkansas Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dako ta, Indian territory and portions of the states of Minnesots, Montana, Wy oming and Colorado. St. Louis gradu ally developed in importance and 1822 received its charter as a city. It made tremendous strides in the lat ter half of the last century, between 1860 and 1870, almost doubling its population. In the last 44 years its popu lation has more than quadrupled. In many branches of manufacture and inclusive. commerce St. Louis leads the cities of the world. It possesses many fine public buildings and has a magnifi sent park system.

Reciprocity. In new address to the notification committee I said that tariff reform "Is demanded by the best interests of both manufacturer and consumer." With equal truth it can be said that the benefits of reciprocal trade treaties would enure to both. That the consumer would be helped is unquestionable. That the manufacturer would receive great benefit by extending his markets abroad hardly needs demon-stration. His productive capacity has outgrown the home market. The very term "home market" has changed in its significance. Once, from the manufacturers' point of view, it meant exnension: today the marvelous growth our manufacturing industries has far exceeded the consumptive capacity of our domestic markets, and the term "home market" implies contraction rather than expansion. If we would run our rulls to their full capacity. thus giving steady employment to our workmen and securing to them and to the manufacturer the profits accruing from increased production, other markets must be found. Furthermore Kinley, appreciated this situation. He pointed out in his last address to the eople that we must make sensible trade arrangements if "we shall extend the outlets for our increasing surplus." He said: "A system which provides a mutual exchange of commoditles is manifestly essential to the conthreed and healthful growth of our ex-port trade. * * * The period of exclu-siveness is past. The expansion of our rade and commerce is the pressing problem. Commercial wars are unproftable. A policy of good will and friendly relations will prevent repris-

This argument was made in the in-terest of our manufacturers, whose products, he urged, "have so multiplied that the problem of more markets requires our uigent and immediate at the so called stand pat policy must give way; that there must be a reduc tion of duties to enable our manufac turers to cultivate foreign markets. The last words of this president, who had wen the affection of his country-men, ought to be studied by every man who has any doubt of the necessity of a reduction in tariff rates in the interest of the manufacturer. They present with clearness a situation and a proposed remedy that prompted the provision in our platform which declares that "we favor liberal trade arrange

Pensions For Our Soldiers and Sailors The national Democracy favors lib eral pensions to the surviving soldiers and sallors and their dependents on the ground that they deserve liberal treatment. It pledges by its platform adequate legislation to that end. But denies the right of the executive to psurp the power of congress to legislate on that subject. Such usurpation was attempted by pension order No. 58 and effect has been given to it by a congress that dared not resent the making the imposition is not pointed out. The act to which the order refers, which is the one relating to pensions to civil war veterans, does not authorize pensions on the ground of age. It does grant pensions to those suffering from any mental or physical disability or disabilities of a permanent character, not the result of their own victous habits, which so incapacttates them from the performance of manual labor as to render them una-ble to earn a support." This speaded requirement of incapacity is in effect set aside by order No. 78 as to all per-

There is not a sentence in the Republican platform recommending a relations in the expenditures of the government, not a line suggesting that the increase in the cost of the war department from $31,-200,000 in 1856 to $115,000,000 in 1951 alould be inquired into and not a paragraph calling for a thorough investigation of these departments of the government in which dishonesty has been recently disclosed.

Twenty-eight years have passed since the Democratio party of the state of New York in convention assembled recommended to the national Democracy the nomination of Sumuel J. Tilden as its candidate for the presidency and declared it to be "their sottled conviction that a return to the constitutional principles, the presidency and designed and designed appropriate the constitutional principles. frumi expenses and administrative purity of the founders of the republic is the first and most imperious duty of the times—the commanding issue now before the peaple of the Union," This strong expension was called forth by the national expenditures for the year 1815, which amounted to $274,600,000—a situation which, is the critical of the peace of the pe pression was caused to be year 1875, which amounted to $274,000,000—a situation which, in the opinion of a majority of our people, justified an imperative demand for reform in the administration of public affairs. As the expenditures of the last facal year amounted to the enormous total of $82,000,000, it is evident that a thorough investigation of the public service and the immediate abandomment of useless and extravagant expenditures are more necessary now than they were then. This astounding increase is out of all proportion to the increase of our population and finds no excuse from whatevor aspect we view the situation. The national democratic platform declares that "large reductions can easily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the public service." Can there be any doubt of the accuracy of this statement? Between the expenditures of the year 1886, amounting to $212,000,000, and those of the last fiscal year—the seventh after Orever Cleveland ceased to be president—aggregating $52,000,000, there is a difference so great as to excite alarm in the breasts of all thoughtful men. Even excluding the sum of $50,000,000, being more than double the expenditures of the last fiscal year exceeded the sum of $52,000,000, being more than double the expenditures of the government for all purposes during the first year of Mr. Cleveland's administration.

The expenses of the first four years succeeding the last Democratio administra-

The expenses of the first four years succeeding the last Democratic administraceeding the last Democratic administra-tion amounted to the enormous uverage of $31,000.000 per year. This large ex-penditure was due to a considerable ex-tent to the cost of the Spanish-American war, which occurred during that period. But the termination of that war brought no relief to the treasury, for the average annual expenses of the government dur-ing the three subsequent years ending June 20, 1934, were about $319,000,000, which is the largest sum hitherto reached dur-ing a like period since the close of the civil war.

ing a like period since the close of the civil war.

This draft upon the revenues of the country has had the effect which might have been anticipated, and now we have presented the reverse of the situation, which led to the famous observation, "It is a condition and not a theory which confronts us," for, although the present incumbent found at the close of the first fiscal year during which he assumed control of the administration a surplus of receipts over expenditures of more than $11,000,000, there was an excess of expenditures over receipts at the close of the last fiscal year of $42,000,000, and the official morthly reports made by the treasury department show that the expenditures are continuously and rapidly increasing, while the receipts are diminishing.

Our school directors are making some improvements at Deflance. They due a well on the grounds 33 feet deep from which they expect to pump the water by means of a wind-mill into the reservoir built last year. They also cleaned and walled up a fine prining on the grounds after will be piped into the building for driaking pursoness and to supply the boiler. Our school will soon he well supplied with water. By that time this article is read the action grounds will be artistically and substantially fenced in. Superintendent Metzger reports that 36 members of the Broad Top Educational association were present at the first seasion of local institute held at Riddlesburg last Saturday. The session was both interesting and instructive. We were pleased to learn that those who were selected to discuss the verious tendes performed their duty with credit. William Lu ider, J. H. Cessna and I. W. Holsinger were present and took part in the di cristons. The topic that created the most discussion was How to trach local history an 'gography. The next session will be held in Langdondale. October 8 at 1:39 p.m.

Superintendent Metzger hasmada hisfirst visit to the schools of the township. He seems much encouraged with his corps of teachers and reports the schools in a healthy condition. Quite a number of children have not yet enrolled.
